

Feeling Safe Outdoors

First Aid Training

Feeling Safe Outdoors: First Aid Training

The Health and Safety Commission (HSC) guidance recommends that organisations, such as schools should: 'consider carefully the likely risks to pupils and visitors, and make allowance for them' - when the decision about the numbers of first-aid personnel is being made. As a legal requirement, all staff First Aiders must have attended a recognised course that is affiliated with OFQUAL - which should be one of the following: emergency first aid at work (EFAW) or first aid at work (FAW).

For more information please refer to HSE:
<https://www.hse.gov.uk/firstaid>